

Caring Connections

Information and Support for Kinship Carers

Why do kids behave the way they do?

What discipline strategies really work?

They have been through so much...what will help them feel secure and safe??

What about resilience? How can we help our children handle the tough stuff in life?

If you are a relative, grandparent or friend sharing your home with children who can't live with their parents - for whatever reason....this is for you.

"it is very informative and you come away feeling empowered"

"(we were able) to speak openly about issues without being judged"

"it is down to earth and relevant...this has been really valuable"

"you understand a lot more about the child in your care"

Caring Connections is a program for all Kinship Carers. You are invited to:

- learn about ideas and approaches that make sense for these children & young people
- build on your strengths and family resilience
- share your ideas & experiences with others in similar situations
